DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claim 13 is withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/20/2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1, 2, and 4-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. The treatment of the rice hulls to achieve lower density is critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). Applicant's claims require that a density is achieved but is missing the treatment which is needed to attain this density. One of ordinary skill in the art would not be able to determine what would meet this limitation without undue experimentation.
4. Claims 1, 2, and 4-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: treatment of the rice hulls to achieve lower density. Since this treatment is essential to achieving the claimed density they must be included in the claims. One of ordinary skill in the art would not be able to determine what would meet this limitation without undue experimentation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1, 2, and 4-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Waldock (6,955,731).

Waldock discloses a heavy ANFO composition comprising ammonium nitrate, fuel oil and a bulking agent such as rice hulls (abstract). The density of the explosive composition can vary from .35-1.33 g/cc (col. 6, lines 50-65). The ammonium nitrate can include porous prilled AN and the fuel oil can be diesel (col. 3). The density of the rice hulls is an inherent property of this composition. As to limitations which are considered to be inherent in a reference, note the case law of In re Ludke, 169 USPQ 563; In re Swinehart, 169 USPQ 226, In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594; In re Best et al, 195 USPQ 430; and In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685, 688.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Waldock (6,955,731) as applied to claims 1, 2, and 4-12 above, and further in view of Finch (3,451,944).

Waldock fails to disclose the treatment of the rice hulls.

Finch teaches that it is known to treat rice hulls with washing to obtain hulls with density less than .14 g/cc (col. 5, lines 35-75 and col. 6, lines 1-5). See col. 5 where the highest density is 7.5 lb/ft³ which equals .12 g/cc.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the treated rice hulls as taught by Finch since Finch suggests that rice hulls can be modified by heating and washing.
